

Catena-X Automotive Network e.V.

A membership in the Catena-X Association is beneficial for companies that want to actively participate in shaping the future data ecosystem. The Association puts a special focus on the standards to be set, which will be necessary for an overarching data exchange. Through the Association, development projects can emerge that address use cases or the development of further Catena-X services.

The Association members have access to information and know-how around the collaborative data ecosystem. They can bring in their own competencies within Working Groups and Committees. Exchange with other Association members and stakeholders is also part of the association's purpose, as is the development of international cooperations. Find all information on the membership here

Any question, feel free to contact info@catena-x.net

Join in!

